Dubai: Four women were arrested for using drugs, police sources said recently.

Police said the four Emirati women were arrested last week.

Police said the women are being detained at Al Muraqqabat police station.

According to some other female prisoners who are detained at the same police station, the Emirati women were detained alone in a separate area.

One female prisoner claimed that the women used to shout and scream all the time.

Another female prisoner claimed that the four women used to bang all the time on the steel door of the corridor where Emirati women are locked up.

Meal times

A prisoner said that other prisoners used to see those four women during meal times.

"I asked one of the Emirati women what her name is and she said M," the prisoner said.

The prisoner said that the four women looked young and they used to wear their national dress.

Police said the women were arrested for using drugs illegally and for consuming alcohol.

Police did not give the names of the women and where and how they were arrested.

Police said the case will go to the public prosecutor and the women will be detained at Al Aweer police station.
