

Malaysian, Dubai authorities arrest drug suspects

The drug hauls at the Kuala Lumpur airport were valued at around Dh4 million, according to a police statement.

- By Sara Janahi, Staff Reporter
- Published: 00:00 December 2, 2010

Dubai: Malaysian authorities have arrested three people, who were suspected of trafficking about 16kg of Methamphetamine in three different cases, in collaboration with Dubai Police.

The drug hauls at the Kuala Lumpur airport were valued at around Dh4 million, according to a police statement.

An Asian male was arrested on suspicion of carrying 966g of Methamphetamine in a suitcase, while an African female was arrested with seven litres of liquefied Methamphetamine and 3,080g of the drug in a suitcase.

Another Asian suspect was with 5,829g of the narcotics hidden in picture frames.

© Gulf News 2010